

Job Title:

Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Sciences Faculty, College of Pharmacy

Job Description:

The Department of Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Sciences seeks an energetic, team-oriented, highly collaborative individual to join as faculty committed to student success. The Assistant/Associate Professor provides academic instruction to pharmacy students that is appropriate to one's field of expertise, as assigned by the Department Chair. Additional responsibilities include oversight of participation as an active member of assigned college or university committees, scholarship and research, and service as a faculty advisor to students.

CHSU continues to teach its current students and has submitted a new application for Precandidate Accreditation status to ACPE and seeks to enroll new students into the program in Fall 2022, pending successful ACPE approval.

CHSU does not have tenure track positions for any faculty member. As such, this is a non-tenured track position. Faculty members are contracted employees.

CHSU continues to teach its current students and is scheduled for an ACPE site visit in early October 2021 for Pre-candidate Accreditation and seeks to enroll new students into the program in Fall 2022, pending successful ACPE approval.

Reports to:

Chair of Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Sciences

Classification:

Faculty, Full Time, Exempt

Essential Duties:

- Teaching: Provide didactic and laboratory instruction within assigned courses in accordance with course syllabi, including development or maintenance of course materials. The amount of the teaching will be assigned annually by the Department Chair.
- Scholarship: Conduct educational or health-related research and/or scholarly activity that is either published or presented following peer review.
- Service: Active service on committees of the College or University and service as a faculty-student advisor, as assigned. Actively participate in events and activities of the College and University.
- In the execution of job duties, faculty members must abide by all CHSU and COP policies, procedures, and syllabi requirements. This job description is not intended to be all-inclusive, and the faculty member will also perform other reasonably

Qualifications/Education:*Education:

- Ph.D. and postdoctoral training in Pharmacokinetics/Pharmaceutics.

Skills & Experience:

- Teaching experience at the professional level and experience in an academic setting is preferred.
- Comprehensive knowledge of Pharmaceutics, Pharmaceutical Calculations, Pharmacokinetics is required. Also, expertise in compounding to teach compounding laboratory courses is required.
- Ability to communicate effectively, both verbally and in writing, with students, faculty, administrators, and other stakeholders.
- Adept at organizing complex scientific and professional subject matter and designing course materials.
- A track record of, and desire to further develop in, leadership skills and collegiality.
- Computer skills such as the use of desktop or laptop, Microsoft Office, and online education platforms and resources.

Compensation:

- Professional demeanor, collaborative work style, and enthusiasm and commitment to contribute to the CHSU and College's missions.

CHSU offers a competitive benefits and compensation package. Salary is commensurate with experience.

Application Instructions

Interested candidates are to electronically submit a letter of interest, a detailed resume and the names, titles, and contact information of at least (3) professional references. Please send a completed package electronically to careers@chsu.edu and type Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Sciences Faculty in the subject field of the email.