

Job Title:	Ultrasound Lab Facilitator
Job Description:	As a team member of the California Health Sciences University Department of Specialty Medicine the ultrasound instructor provides vital technical support and expertise for operations specific to handheld point of care ultrasound (POCUS) education, software, and equipment.
Reports to: Classification:	Chair of Specialty Medicine Adjunct Faculty (Part-Time, Weekday Afternoons)
Essential Duties:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Partner with faculty members to develop experiences that leverage the state-of-the-art ultrasound (U/S), equipment, and technology to achieve the educational goals and objectives of the College of Osteopathic Medicine (COM). • Assist Physician Faculty in developing basic ultrasound curriculum with the curriculum. • Deliver bedside instruction to medical students on the use of their own handheld U/S devices. • Provide training and support to COM medical students, and faculty in the technical aspects of their handheld U/S devices. • May undertake and assist in research activities that relate to technologies and outcomes in medical education learning • May participate in demonstrations for medical school applicants & other community outreach programs & events that highlight technology in a modern med school curriculum
Qualifications/ Education:	Education: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • American Registry of Diagnostic Medical Sonography® (ARDMS) Certification or equivalent • Two years of experience in clinical medical ultrasound. • Knowledge of medical terminology required. • Knowledge of human anatomy/physiology required Skills & Experience <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Maintain a welcoming, supportive attitude toward all faculty and simulation center personnel. • Able to handle all situation with tact, professionalism, and diplomacy. • Excellent computer skills with proficiency in Microsoft applications including but not limited to Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Visio. • Ability to work independently under limited supervision, including learning new software/hardware quickly. • Excellent interpersonal and communication skills to work effectively in a team environment with internal & external individuals from different disciplines & different levels of training. • Able to express technical information clearly and simply to non-technical persons. • Excellent organizational and prioritization skills with attention to detail. • Able to work under pressure and make critical decisions. • Creative and flexible in designing innovative approached to solving problems and improving processes. • Maintain confidentiality regarding job assignment and sensitive issues.
Compensation:	CHSU offers a competitive benefits and compensation package. Salary is commensurate with experience.

Application Instructions

Interested candidates are to electronically submit a letter of interest, a detailed resume and the names, titles, and contact information of at least (3) professional references. Please send a completed package electronically to careers@chsu.edu and type Ultrasound Lab Facilitator in the subject field of the email.